sonal and profitable occupation. The best managed orphanages in England and on the European continent are becoming almost self-supporting, and in saving thousands of children from the streets, and turning them to useful occupations, they confer a far greater benefit on society than the equivalent of their whole cost. Such experiments are no longer to be looked upon as quixotic, and in many respects this colony possesses greater facilities for them than most other countries. What we want is a few people who thoroughly understand the subject, and who are willing to do their best. When religion, philanthropy, and public policy all point in one direction, a practicable method ought not to be an impossibility.

SEMI-ANNUAL REPORT OF THE EAST AND EUROPEAN P. AND O. S. ASSN.—A summary for transmission to the East and Europe P. and O. S. Assn., will be published in Saturday's Herald.

REGULATIONS UNDER THE CROWN LANDS ALIENATION ACT.—We have been requested to invite attention to certain additional regulations under the Crown Lands Alienation Act, published in another column. It has been found necessary to make these regulations in view of complications which may be expected to arise in the forthcoming alienation of the reserves at Moama, and on the Yanco and Coloona creeks, and for the purpose of removing difficulties which at present exist in determining the prices of Crown lands by appraisement.

Brown (others), to settle order on appeal re attachment; Bucknell v. Vickery, to fix costs on appeal; same v. same, ditto; At 11 a.m.—Pigou v. Thompson, evidence for hearing.

DANBURY RELIEF FUND.—The following subscriptions towards this fund were received yesterday:—Mrs. McNeil, 10s. 6d.; A. B. S., 41s. 10s. For Captain Walker—A. B. S., 10s.

THE ENGINEER-IN-CHIEF OF RAILWAYS.—An important change is about to be made in the Railway Department. Mr. Fitchett, who has been in the management of the railway lines in the Department, but will retain his position as Engineer-in-Chief for the lines in progress. This change has been made necessary in consequence of the increasing business in connection with the new extensions, as well as projected extensions. Mr. Mason, Assistant Engineer, is to take the management of the existing lines and locomotive department.

RAILWAY WORKSHOPS AND FACTORIES.—The Government have just completed the purchase of a splendid block of land at the Parramatta Junction as a site for the railway workshops and factories. It contains 85 acres, having a frontage to both sides of the railway and to the Sydney road, and an inexhaustible supply of fresh water. The position is admirably suited for the purpose, and the Government are desirous of securing the land for the purpose of erecting workshops, as the coal or imported heavy goods can be taken almost to the land by boats, up Duck River, direct from Sydney harbour. The tide rises sufficiently to admit of large boats discharging coal to the spot. This purchase, together with 15 acres of Government land at the junction, will give room for the workshops and factories for years to come, and will enable the Government to have their own workshops in a fine, healthy district at moderate rates, instead of the crowded streets and lanes of the city.

SHOOTING BY THE POLICE AT NARRANDERA.—Further particulars having been received by the Government concerning the shooting of the Rev. Father Healey by the police at Narrandera, we are informed that the Attorney-General has given instructions to the Attorney-General to inquire into the matter, and to report to the Government. The police officers who were concerned in the shooting of the Rev. Father Healey are now being investigated. The further particulars are the evidence of some persons who were staying in the public-house at the time the shooting took place. It is evident to the effect that the officers did not inform Healey that they were police until he had shot him, and that they conducted him and others in the house to believe that they were not police, but bushrangers. The matter, consequently, is a very serious one, and, as stated, the police officers will be proceeded against for manslaughter.

OYSTER CULTIVATION.—We understand that His Excellency the Governor has appointed the Hon. J. B. Wilson, the Hon. Thomas Holt, and Mr. J. S. M. A. to inquire into the means of cultivating the oyster to the improvement and maintaining the oyster beds of the colony.

STOLEN PROPERTY.—The police yesterday arrested a man on a charge of having property in his possession, supposed to be stolen. The property consists of a saw, a hammer, and a chisel, and a small quantity of iron. The man is now being held for further investigation.

FORFEITURE OF BAIL.—At the Water Police Court, yesterday, Solomon Levy, under remand on bail for two charges of forging bills, each for the amount of £100, did not appear when called in the customary manner, and the Court ordered that his bail be forfeited. The amount of bail was £400, being in each case £100 for the accused himself, and £300 each for two sureties. The sureties were Messrs. Barnett and M. Levy.

DEATH FROM THE KICK OF A HORSE.—On Thursday, the 22nd inst., a man named Joseph Thomas, 20 years of age, was received into the Sydney Infirmary, having been kicked in the stomach by a horse. The injuries were not at the time thought to be serious, but the man died in the institution early yesterday morning.

CHILD BURNED BY MATCHES.—About 7 o'clock yesterday morning, a little girl, aged 18 months, residing with her parents at 18, Liverpool street, while in bed, set fire to her nightdress while playing with some matches, and, before the fire could be extinguished, she received severe burns on the right arm. The injuries, however, are not dangerous.

ACCIDENT.—Early yesterday morning a little girl of 9 years, named Mary Thompson, residing with her parents in Jenkins-street, near Kent-street, was passing by a new building being put up in that neighbourhood, when she fell from the building and struck her on the head, causing a severe wound. She was taken home, and attended to by a medical gentleman, and is now progressing favourably.

ACCIDENT THROUGH A FALL OF EARTH.—On Thursday last John Mulvey, aged 50 years, residing in Little George-street, was working at a brick-maker's establishment at Fort St. John, digging clay, when a large quantity of earth fell upon him, causing severe injuries to his legs and one of his arms. Yesterday forenoon Mulvey was admitted into the institution.

FIRE.—About five minutes past 8 o'clock yesterday forenoon an alarm was given that a fire had broken out at the City Night Refuge and Soup Kitchen. The fire broke out in the kitchen, and was quickly followed by the No. 3 Volunteer Company and the other companies, and in a short time the fire was extinguished. It was found that the fire had broken out in the shingle roof of the kitchen, and the part of the premises used by the manager, Mr. H. B. Lee, as a residence. These shingles were covered in turn by plates of iron, and on their being removed it was found that the shingles beneath were charred. The origin had been, it is said, from a defective iron chimney, which was on fire when the firemen arrived.

NO. 2 VOLUNTEER FIRE COMPANY.—The officers and members of the above company, at a meeting held last night at the City Night Refuge and Soup Kitchen, resolved to give the company a social and dramatic entertainment to be given on next Saturday night, by the Morton Amateur Dramatic Club, in aid of the Dandenong Fund.

DISCOVERY OF FOSSILS.—Settlers who are gone northwards from Deniliquin district, and have settled in the northern district of New South Wales, are digging wells on the banks of the Murrumbidgee, and are discovering bones of extinct animals. Mr. Wolsely (says the Pastoral Times) has brought away a skull dug up from a depth of forty feet on his new station. It is a skull of a kangaroo, and is of a size, a horse's front tooth; but it evidently belonged to some animal never seen by whites in Australia. In sinking wells in the Warrego district bones of this kind are often so unearthed, proving clearly that that part of the continent of New Holland was once a marsh, and indicating that the now great salt bush country, on which we fatten our flocks and herds, was once an inland sea.

The Navigation Board gave their decision today in the Dandenong wreck. The loss of the vessel was attributed to the breakage of the shaft, and the accident was characterized as unprecedented. The Board held that all the officers, crew, and passengers acted with great bravery and coolness, especially Peterson, Lykes, Anderson, and Ecklund, who formed the ship's crew. From the evidence given before the Board, principally by McKean, and Wilson, the inspecting engineer, the supposition is, that the water ballast tank of the Dandenong gave way, and forced the ship to sink. The cause of the accident was not found, but it was believed that the tank was not properly secured, and that the captain, as he had hinted himself, started the tank as a last resource to bring the vessel on an even keel. All the persons on board were highly praised, and it was sworn that the crew were well behaved, even in cases of requisition. The evidence was principally an amplification of the narratives already published, and no fresh facts were elicited.
